St. Gregory Celebrates Grand Opening in Suzhou, China

The local integrated lifestyle management brand successfully makes its foray into mainland China, the first for a home-grown wellness establishment.

[Singapore, April 2011] St. Gregory at Pan Pacific Suzhou officially opened its doors to guests on April 14, 2010, marking the start of the brand's long-term expansion in mainland China, and allowing business travellers, tourists and local residents alike to rest, rejuvenate and enhance their well-being in an accessible yet tranquil location.

With outlets already present in Singapore, Malaysia and Japan, St. Gregory is set to take Asia-Pacific by storm with its latest opening. A lifestyle brand under the Pan Pacific Hotels Group, St. Gregory is a pioneer in the hotel spa and wellness industry in this region, boasting wide-reaching infrastructure, benefits and an excellent customer track record for the last 14 years.

"We are extremely happy to have seen St. Gregory Suzhou through from conception to reality. This is the great start of our long-term expansion plan in the region, to take root wherever there is a Pan Pacific or PARKROYAL hotel," says Ms Wee Wei Ling, Founder and Chief Operating Officer of St. Gregory.

Other outlets in the pipeline include Xiamen and Yangon which will be similarly housed in properties under the Pan Pacific Hotels Group.

St. Gregory is the first in Singapore to introduce an integrated lifestyle management concept based on its four unique pillars of therapy, fitness, aesthetics and active-ageing. It is known for its efficacious treatments, facials and wellness regimens undertaken by only the best therapists, physicians and personal trainers in the region.
